Informal News Beat Rainy 4th

This year, the 4th Blast fireworks were shot by a local crew. The past few years a licensed pyrotechnician and crew had to be hired to shoot the city show. This year, a local crew and I shot the show. After talking with a few citizens, I decided to get my certifications and licenses in hopes of saving the money previously spent to hire a crew to shoot.

We were able to assemble a small crew and shoot this year despite the rainy weather - (Chris Boultinghouse informed me, after the show, that this is the 19th consecutive year that the Mound City fireworks show has not been rained out). I hope everyone was able to make it out and watch the show.

As far as the fireworks' display goes, we hope to perfect the shoot and provide a better display each year.

We hope you enjoyed the show and thank you all for donating. Maybe next year we will have better weather!

-Adam

News from Tiffany Heights

Residents enjoyed the afternoon on Tuesday, June 29, with a round of Name Game. This is a great mind stimulating game that is fun for all ages. They chose the words, vegetables and fruit, since it's that time of year. They were able to make 217 different words with those letters.

Another month is gone and residents anticipate the upcoming events. On Wednesday afternoon, they spent time getting ready for July and all the special events it brings.

Phyllis Ripley provided piano music during lunch on Thursday. Bingo volunteers during the afternoon were Shirley Jackson, Jean McCall, Inez VanOrman, Vickie Taylor, Karen Fisher, Gordon Robbins, Pat Johns and Lucille Stull. Shirley Jackson was acknowledged on Thursday afternoon as the state winner of the Missouri Health Care Association Volunteer of the Year Award. Shirley has been invited to attend the awards' banquet that will be held during the fall convention this August in Branson, MO. The convention also acknowledges all of the volunteers' hard work and dedication to serving the people who have helped make the communities what they are.

The residents enjoyed the anticipation of the Independence Day holiday by playing a round of "I Love America" jingo. All the questions dealt with important events, symbols and people in the United States. Winner of the games were Mary Lou Nauman, Helen Hatch and Ruth Swymeler.

A special moment was held during the morning on Saturday, as Lucyle Benne, accompanied by Alberta Linck, raised the flag in memory of Max Benne and his service to the nation and this community.

Residents enjoyed watching the parade on Saturday morning. Ms. Tiffany Heights, Alberta Linck, was escorted in the parade by Bobbie Schooler of Fairfax. Bobbie drove her 1995 Anniversary Edition red G.T. Ford Mustang. Alberta is originally from the Savannah area. She was raised on Hunt Orchard in Amazonia. Alberta moved to Mound City to be near her family, Pam Rippey and Justin Rother. Alberta states the biggest accomplishments in her life are her family and being a 20-year cancer survivor. Alberta will represent Tiffany Heights in the Missouri Health Care Association Queen Pageant in Branson in August.

Sunday morning services were provided by Larry Brickey and family. Residents did enjoy the fireworks during the evening on Sunday and were lucky to have a covered place to view.

Mound City Kiwanis Club

The Mound City Kiwanis Club met at the United Methodist Church on Wednesday, June 30, 2010, with 16 members and one guest present, Terry Martin. A business meeting followed the meal.

The club received two thank you notes, one from Lucyle Benne thanking the Kiwanis for the flowers for Max's funeral and for donating toward the Max Benne Scholarship Fund and the second note was from Mound City Pints baseball team thanking the Kiwanis for the covers on the baseball dugouts.

Treasurer Dave Frede gave a financial report, noting that funds continue to come in toward the Benne Scholarship.

The club voted to donate $100 to Drew Ireland toward the repair of the shelter roof at the top of the Loess Bluff Hiking Trail at Squaw Creek. Drew is working on this for his Eagle Scout project.

There was a great deal of discussion about the 4th of July events. Jonathan Miller distributed a final schedule of events. Volunteers were recruited to assist with registration for the tractors, antique cars and horses.

Terry Martin thanked the Kiwanis for their assistance at last year's July 4th celebration and talked about some of the items that still needed to be accomplished by this weekend.

Emergency Conservation Program now available

Jackie VanGundy, County Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Holt County reminds producers to contact the office before beginning any restoration work for land damaged by the flood.

USDA Farm Service Agency provides emergency funding for farmers to rehabilitate farmland damaged by natural disasters such as flooding. ECP cost share practices include: removing debris from farmland and grading, shaping; re-leveling farmland; and restoring conservation structure and installations.

Based on a site visit, FSA will determine eligibility of land for ECP.

Subject to availability of funds, ECP participants may receive cost-share assistance of up to 75% of the cost to implement approved

ECP practices. Eligible participants are subject to a payment limitation. Funding for ECP is appropriated by Congress so it is not an entitlement program where eligible producers are guaranteed funding.

Holt County has not been approved for the ECP program at this point; however, FSA is required to inspect the damage before the work is done to be eligible.

So please contact the office before beginning any restoration work!

The Bledsoe family- Entertained residents at Tiffany Heights on Monday, July 5, as part of their families' Service Day plans. The entire family was able to be together for the first time in four years, so a week of activities were carefully planned.

Local family capitalizes on time together

The Gordon and Elaine Bledsoe family felt blessed this year to be able to simultaneously gather all the children and grandchildren together during the Fourth of July week. It was the first time in four years that this has happened.

"When your kids live out of state, you don't get the opportunity very often," Elaine stated, "So we take full advantage to have fun and serve while they are here."

Gordon and Elaine's three children, spouses and grandchildren helped with the planning of the myriad of family events. Family members included: son, Jared and wife, Dawn, Mark, Sydney, Isaac, Allison and Grace M.; daughter, Corey and husband, Rich, AJ, Riley and Denna; and daughter, Lacey and husband, Dan, Davey, Grace E. and Lily. Each sibling took a day and made plans on how the family would celebrate. The Fourth of July was spent with extended family traditionally celebrating the Fourth of July.

On Monday, July 5, the family held a Service Day. They made cookies and cleaned the State Theater in the morning. If weather conditions had been favorable, the family had made plans to sweep and clean parade debris from main street. In the afternoon, the family gathered at Tiffany Heights Nursing Home for Teddy Bear and Me Day. The group entertained the residents with several songs, drew and colored pictures of teddy bears and served cookies.

The family spent the rest of the week with fun events and food focused around the themes of Mexican Day, Jungle Day and Pioneer Day before travelling back to their various home states.

The Fourth of July evening entertainment on Friday, July 2, was started with a tribute to World War II and Korean Conflict veteran, Glen Nauman.

Glen was inducted into the Army on May 15, 1945, and spent 17 weeks at Infantry Basic Training at Camp Maxey, TX. After a series of moves, the ultimate of which was Harry Truman's dropping of the atomic bomb on August 6, 1945, Glen ended up at a Depot on Luxon Island, Philippines, processing POW's that were returning home.

After being discharged on Christmas Day 1946, Glen took up farming. He joined the Air National Guard in 1950 and in April 1951, got orders to begin active duty.

Different orders moved him from St. Joseph to various duties in Virginia, California, New Jersey, France and Libya before returning home. Glen's discharge was effective December 13, 1961.

Glen married his wife Barbara in 1967 and they are the parents of two children, Glen Jr. and Nancy.

The second veteran honored that evening was Aviation Ordinance Third Class Petty Officer Jason Biermann.

Jason began his military enlistment with signing up at St. Joseph Recruiting Station. After 10 weeks in boot camp, Jason completed four months of training in Aviation Ordinance in Tennessee.

In January of 1991, Jason was deployed to the South Pacific for the start of Desert Shield and then in 1992, Operation Desert Storm had him deployed back to the Persian Gulf.

Jason was honorably discharged from the Navy on August 17, 1992. He has received numerous awards throughout his service and is currently serving as Vice Commander of American Legion Post 121.

The Senior King and Queen crowning was sponsored by Elaine's Hair Care.

Eldon and Wilma Jean Davis, who have been married 63 years, were crowned the 2010 Senior King and Queen.

The couple met in high school, and was married in Hiawatha, KS. They lived all their married lives in Mound City, MO.

Eldon served three years in General Patton's 3rd Army 549th anti-aircraft Battalion. Wilma completed high school and worked at Engelhart Grain Elevator in Mound City.

Eldon had a trucking business for over 50 years transporting livestock, wheat, soybeans and popcorn. He owned a corn sheller and went farm to farm shelling corn for farmers.

Wilma Jean worked 20 years for the United Methodist Church after her family was raised. She enjoys flowers, reading and baking.

The couple has five children: Andy of St. Joseph, MO, Loyd of Joplin, MO, Glen of Mound City, MO, Patty Judy of Mound City and Peggy Horseman (deceased). They have six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

The Miss Fourth of July Pageant concluded the evening activities. Eleven girls enjoyed the tea on Friday afternoon with the judges. They then readied in beautiful gowns for the queen contest that evening.

Haley Loucks, daughter of Mike and Lisa Loucks of Mound City, was crowned Miss Fourth of July. Her court included three attendants: Taylor Blevins, daughter of Glen Davis and Terri Blevins of Mound City; Josie Bomar, daughter of Betty Bomar, Mound City, and Carina Metzgar, daughter of Bill and Karma Metzgar of Mound City.

Senior King and Queen, Eldon and Wilma Jean Davis- Took in the community band concert in Griffith Park on Saturday afternoon. The couple was crowned during the Friday evening events and rode in the parade on Saturday morning.

Nine-year-old Justyn Hall- Strained as he pedaled his way to a second place finish. He finished with a full pull in 36.78 seconds. Justyn is the son of Jason and Carolyn Hall of Mound City.

Five year-old Kenna Morris- Daughter of Ryan Morris of St. Joseph, MO, and Ashley Morris of Oregon, MO, found pedal pulling to be quite a challenge, especially in the wet conditions of Saturday afternoon's pull.

Heat and humidity can create health risks at any age

The heat and humidity that often mark summertime in Missouri can create a health hazard for people of all ages, state health officials warn.

While the very young, the elderly and the chronically ill are at greatest risk of heat-related illness, summer temperatures can take a toll on healthy young and middle-aged adults, too.

Of the 11 Missourians who died from heat-related causes last year, eight were 25 to 64 years of age. Only three were age 65 or older.

"High temperatures coupled with high humidity can cause health problems quickly and with little warning," said Margaret Donnelly, director of the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services. "Summer Safety Week reminds us of the precautions we need to take to protect ourselves and others, especially those who are particularly vulnerable to the heat."

The elderly and the chronically ill perspire less and are more likely to be taking medication that can impair the body's response to heat or that make them more sensitive to the heat.

Those medications include antihistamines, over-the-counter sleeping pills, antidepressants, heart drugs, antipsychotics, major tranquilizers and some medications for Parkinson's disease. People should check with their doctor or pharmacist to find out if their medications make them more sensitive to summer's high temperatures.

Senior citizens on fixed incomes often do not have air conditioning or feel they cannot afford the extra expense of running it. Since many seniors live alone, Missourians should check on elderly family members and neighbors regularly to be sure they are not suffering from the effects of the heat.

Donnelly urges Missourians to use the state's toll-free abuse and neglect hotline at 1-800-392-0210 to report senior citizens or adults with disabilities suffering from the heat and needing assistance. The hotline operates 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. seven days a week.

Young children are also sensitive to heat and must rely on adults to regulate their environments to prevent heat-related illness.

Infants and children should not be left unattended in hot environments, especially in cars, even with the air conditioner running. A car's interior can reach oven-like temperatures in minutes, putting anyone inside at risk of overheating. Children also should not be allowed to play in or around cars. Small children can become trapped because they are not big enough to open the door or roll down the window to get out. They also can fall asleep inside a hot vehicle or play or hide in the trunk of a car.

Children also can become dehydrated very quickly. Small children often do not drink as much liquid as they should and can become dehydrated. Adults need to encourage children to drink plenty of fluids every day.

Symptoms as modest as dizziness or muscle cramps can be signs of heat-related illness. For more warning signs and ways to treat the heat, visit www.dhss.mo.gov/Hyperthermia/HeatPrecautions.html. To locate a cooling center near you where seniors and other people at risk of heat related illness can go to cool down, visit www.dhss.mo.gov/coolingcenter2010.pdf.

Tech Talk

with Troy Cook

Here's a scenario. After last night's thunderstorm, you discover that lightning has fried your computer's hard drive. Your pictures, music, documents, scans; all of it...gone. The fact of the matter is that this happens all too often. The good news is there is something you can do about it, and you can do it today. Deploy a backup strategy for your home computer.

There are several types of home backup strategies that you can deploy depending on how "protected" you wish to be. Personally, some of my data, including pictures of my family, are priceless and I don't take chances. I start by setting up a local backup to an external hard drive. You can purchase an external hard drive at most technology retailers.

While the local backup protects you against general hardware failure, it doesn't protect against everything. If lightning strikes and takes out your computer, chances are it will take out the backup device as well. Additionally, disasters such as fires, tornados or floods would destroy your computer along with any local backup. With that in mind, I also utilize an offsite backup application.

Offsite backup means that your data is stored outside of your home. This is extremely beneficial in the event that your computer and local backup are both destroyed.

There are hundreds of online backup providers so finding the right one is critical. One of the most important factors to consider with an offsite backup strategy is trust. Where is my data stored? Does my provider have a backup plan if disaster strikes them? Will a technician assist me in setting up my backups so I know everything is protected? Will I receive daily notifications on my backup status? If I need to restore, will someone be there to help me? These are all questions that you should have answers to before selecting a backup provider.

In today's information age, protecting your data is vital. I would recommend doing so with an offsite backup provider that you can trust. If you have any questions regarding backup strategies, please call our office at 660-744-5343 to talk with one of our experts.
