Rock'n Blues Band to perform at State Theater

The State Theater in Mound City will host the Jeremiah Johnson Band on Saturday, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. In addition to performing, Jeremiah Johnson is an active Blues memorabilia collector and will have a portion of his collection on display.

Tickets can be purchased at banks in Mound City, Mo. or Bank CBO in Oregon, Mo. Tickets are $15 for adults, $5 for students K-12, and it is a season ticket event.

The concert is sponsored by Tiffany Care Centers, Inc.; Cunningham Farms, Inc.; the Missouri Arts Council; and the State Theater Arts Council. For more information call (660) 442-5909 or visit www.mcstate-theater.com.

Be the next winner at Mound City Lumber

Mound City Lumber, located at 108 W. 7th Street in Mound City, is giving away a $1,000 Shopping Spree. Customers may stop by the store anytime Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. or Saturday from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. to sign up. One entry per household will be allowed from now through Tuesday, September 30.

Sunday night youth group to begin at River of Hope Fellowship

The River of Hope Fellowship will be starting a Sunday night youth group. Located at 27765 Highway 59 south of Mound City (at the intersection of I-29 and Hwy. 59 near the truck stop), the church welcomes any and all students in grades seven through twelve from the surrounding communities to join the youth group.

The youth group kickoff event will be this Sunday, September 7, starting at 6 p.m. The group will meet every Sunday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. with food provided each week. If anyone is interested in helping in any way, please contact Pastor Will Certain at 816-824-8566.

Russells awarded Holt County Missouri State Fair Farm Family

Chris and Jenny Russell and family of Mound City were among the 110 families honored during the Missouri State Fair's Farm Family Day on Monday, August 11, in Sedalia, Mo.

The Russells were selected as the Holt County Missouri State Fair Farm Family by the Holt County Extension Council and local Farm Bureau. The family includes Emma, Caleb and Camden.

Each year, the fair sets aside a day to recognize farm families from across the state who are active in their community, involved in agriculture, and participate in local outreach and extension programs such as 4-H and FFA.

"We were very pleased that the Russells represented Holt County at the fair. According to Chris, the children were tired but they had a good time," commented Wayne Flanary, Holt County Extension Program Director.

The annual event was sponsored by the Missouri Department of Agriculture, the Missouri Farm Bureau, the Missouri State Fair, the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, and University of Missouri Extension.

Food pantry to open on September 12, aims to serve more

Rita Drewes of Craig, Mo. - Cleans shelves at the new food pantry located at 1410 Nebraska Street in Mound City on Friday, August 29.

In the sanctuary of the former Community of Christ Church at 1410 Nebraska Street in Mound City, industrial shelving units are being installed near rows of empty pews. Barbara Hanlon hopes that soon both will be full.

The director of the local Food Pantry, Hanlon, Pastor Brian Lemcke and a small group of volunteers decided to continue a food pantry when Helen Runnels, who previously ran a pantry from the Baptist Church, retired.

Hanlon stressed that although local churches are working to keep the pantry going, she hopes it becomes a community effort. She pointed out that hunger can affect anyone.

"It affects the community in a lot of ways," Hanlon said. "Those in need are either in a minimum wage job or they have no job ... some people are one flat tire away from going broke."

The previous food pantry fed about 30 people per month, but Hanlon noted that there have been some policy changes that aim to help more people fill in nutritional gaps.

"We are doing something different. We are opening it up to the working poor so we are going up above poverty level. That will include people who work in minimum wage jobs. That previously was not the case," state Hanlon.

To be able to visit the food pantry, individuals will have to bring a photo identification (ID), proof of residency and income verification. After being checked in to the waiting area, people will have the opportunity to shop for their food.

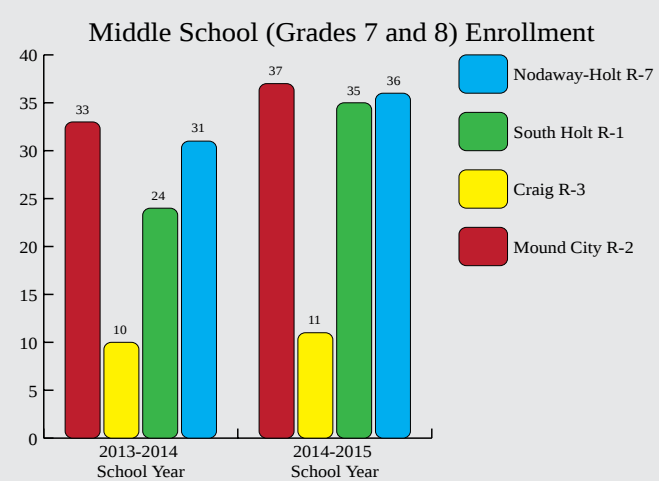

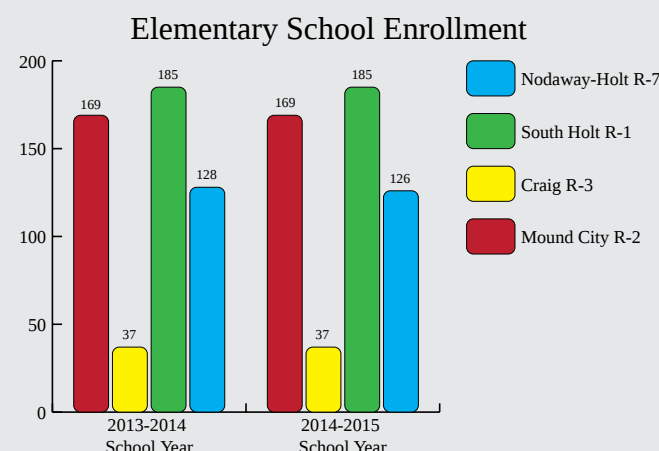

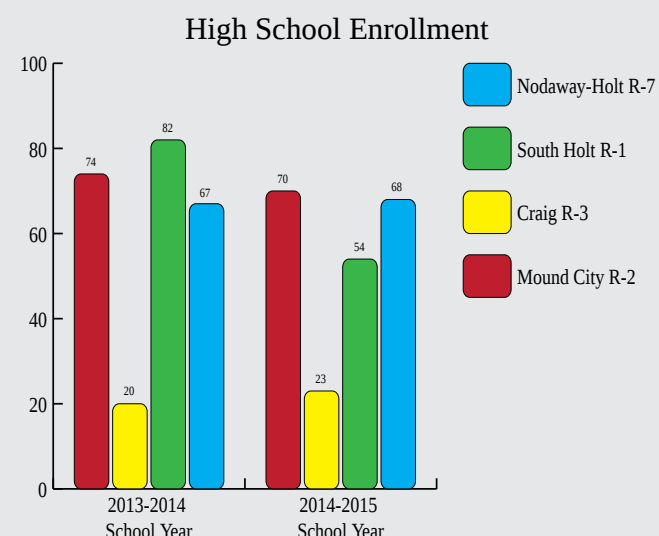

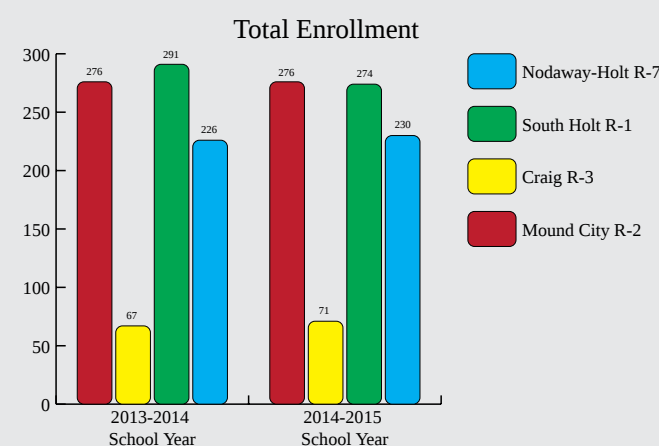

"Where the pews are, there will be a waiting area, and we are going to have the shelves placed so that we're having one person at a time come in and get their food so that it's a private type thing," Hanlon said.

The head of the household will receive 10 pounds of food per month; every subsequent member will receive 5 pounds. The food pantry is set to open Friday, September 12, and will be open twice a month on the second and fourth Fridays from 2 to 6 p.m.

Donations to the food pantry shelves are more than welcome and may be dropped off at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Mound City or call 660-442-0106.

Enrollment stays steady in Holt County

With school having started in the county, Mound City R-2, Craig R-3, South Holt R-1 and Nodaway-Holt R-7 are updating rosters and checking enrollment. Changes in student numbers compared to last year are minimal; specific class sizes, with the exception of South Holt's 2013-2014 elementary school ("It's pretty close to the same," elementary secretary Jenita Killin said), are detailed below:

38th annual Market Square Day in Mound City

Taking over the street - Locals came out to enjoy the 38th annual Market Square Day in Mound City on Labor Day, September 1. The morning was cool and overcast, perfect for a big crowd of patrons on State Street. The Xi Eta Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Mound City directed the event.

Informal News Beat

Mound City went from having no full-time doctors to now having two. I would like to extend a warm welcome to Dr. Brown Keebler at Northwest Health Services. I have not had the chance to meet her, but have heard good things from the public.

I also wanted to write some sort of welcome to Mound City message to Dr. Carpenter, but, from what I can tell, he has hit the ground running. I have heard great things from patients that have been in to see the new doc. I know I'm a few weeks late, but welcome Dr. Carpenter. It was good to see you on the sidelines on Friday night.

Mound City is more than excited to have two doctors in town and we look forward to making both of you part of our community.

I grew up competing. Whether it was in our backyard 'lot' playing football, baseball, hide and seek, or anything else to get dirty and injured, I always wanted to be on the winning team. Who doesn't? That translated into athletics through high school and maybe not so much the academics, which would have helped me out more in the long run I guess.

In Tarkio, our coaches always stressed the importance of helping each other, playing as a team and carrying ourselves in a way that would make our community proud - win or lose.

The moment I came to town I could tell that this was exactly the case in Mound City. The way our students carry themselves in school, out of school, on the field or court, and in public is something our community has every right to be proud of. I give credit to the administration, teachers and coaches for holding our students to high standards. Keep up the good work.

I am, in no way, discrediting the other area schools for lacking in this aspect. I think we are lucky to live in an area where this is on display in every small town.

The athletic programs in all of the small schools in the area go through cycles, but one thing has been steady - a decline in enrollment. (See the co-op story in this week's paper.)

Craig R-3 student/athletes are now playing as Panthers. We are happy to have them and I believe it already has, and will continue to have, a positive impact on both school districts. I have already heard good things from everyone on both sides of this agreement.

I have spent most of my life as a Tarkio Indian. Now, the Tarkio/Fairfax co-op has formed the new East Atchison Wolves program. Even though I may not have totally agreed with the name change, I know that this gives the best opportunities to students of both schools.

I may have grown up an Indian, but I am more comfortable being a Panther the longer I am here; and I do realize that change is inevitable, so I will cheer for whatever teams may come down the road.

Kunkel trades plains for Chinese farmland

In the heat of summer (July 5-22), Kathy J. Kunkel, Holt County Clerk, bid farewell to the Midwest to travel to the Middle Kingdom: China.

"[I was there] for 17 days," Kunkel said. "It was a fantastic trip to China."

Kunkel's journey, however, began a couple of years ago, when she first joined Agricultural Leadership of Tomorrow (ALOT).

"It's a two-year statewide agricultural leadership and development program," she explained.

Unlike the other participants, who endured an application process and around $5,000 in fees, Kunkel was asked by the ALOT Board of Directors to be a part of the program.

"It gave me a platform to be able to talk about the Missouri River, flooding [and] the economic impact," she said.

That knowledge of the river, of the levees and the barge system, and Kunkel's agricultural background ("I'm a farm girl, born and bred," she said), made for an easy foundation when she stepped off the bus to the farmlands of Yinchuan, located in China's Ningxia province.

The point of the trip, the culmination of two years of study, was to see China's agriculture — the crops and the techniques.

Kathy Kunkel stands under the Great Wall - Holt County Clerk Kathy Kunkel visited China as a part of the Agricultural Leadership of Tomorrow program. Kunkel spent 17 days in the country.

As part of a partnership between Missouri State University in Springfield, Mo., and the Northwest Agriculture University in Beijing, Kunkel went on crop tours to learn what thrived and what did not, and when her group visited the Yellow River valley, she witnessed the Chinese government's irrigation methods.

"They had irrigation [going] 60 miles away to the edge of the Gobi desert," she said.

What Kunkel took away from the experience was how China and Missouri could develop a mutually beneficial relationship. Soybeans, Kunkel explained, are abundant in Missouri, but they don't grow well in China. If the two were to develop an import/export program using existing barges, it would be possible to transport the Show-Me State's crops to a country lacking in the necessary agricultural resources.

"My focus has always been on increasing the local market for soybeans," Kunkel said. "It's a resource we already have... Missouri has a huge market for soybeans."

Ideally, she'd like to use farmers' crops in a four-state region (Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas) to "add premium to local farmers and to the direct market."

"It helps Missouri," Kunkel said.

Planning is still in the early stages, but Kunkel's trip to China helped plant the seed for the possibility of a direct export of soybeans to China from the four-state area mentioned above.

And although Kunkel spent the bulk of her time working, she did get the chance to be a tourist, if only for a couple of hours at a time; she took roughly 3,000 photos, visited the terracotta warriors in Xian, tasted a variety of Chinese dishes, and saw the process of pearl farming.

"I brought back pearls [for my daughters]," she said.

Ambulance runs off road and overturns south of Tarkio

No one was injured Tuesday, August 26, 2014, after an Atchison-Holt ambulance ran off the road and overturned while attempting to avoid hitting another vehicle that stopped in the driving lane. The accidents occurred around 9:25 a.m.

A 2008 Dodge 3500 ambulance, driven by Ricky Lee Mitchell, age 44, of Fairfax, Mo., was traveling southbound on U.S. Hwy. 59 south of Tarkio, Mo., in Atchison County when a white pickup (unknown) stopped in the driving lane in front of the ambulance. In an attempt to avoid striking the pickup, Mitchell crossed the center of the roadway, overcorrected and ran off the right side of the roadway. The ambulance overturned and came to rest on the driver's side.

Mitchell, who was wearing a seat belt, suffered no apparent injuries. The Atchison-Holt ambulance received extensive damage and was towed from the scene by Double D Towing of Mound City. The accident was investigated by the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Gene Bradley, director of the Atchison-Holt Ambulance District, said that this is the first time in 12 years that there has been an accident in the fleet.

"We average about 100,000 to 110,000 miles a year for the fleet, so that's a pretty good safety record. It's unfortunate, but he is okay," Bradley said. Bradley added that Mitchell received some "bumps and bruises" from the wreck, but has no other injuries.

According to Bradley, Mitchell reported that the pickup slammed on its brakes to avoid hitting dogs that were in the road.

Due to the damage the vehicle sustained in the accident, the district will have to purchase another ambulance, Bradley commented.

Arrests made on misdemeanor warrants

Two arrests were made on misdemeanor warrants by the Missouri State Highway Patrol in Holt County over the weekend.

Stephen W. Walker, age 29, of Kansas City, Kan., was arrested at 10:09 p.m. on Friday, August 29, on a misdemeanor warrant from the Clay County Sheriff's Office in Missouri.

Haley A. Triggs, age 32, of Agency, Mo., was arrested at 10:15 p.m. on Saturday, August 30, on a misdemeanor warrant for failure to appear and passing a bad check from the Buchanan County, Mo., Sheriff's Office.

Both Walker and Triggs were taken to the Holt County Jail in Oregon, Mo., where they were held pending bond.

Two fatalities result from accident east of Oregon

A fatal accident occurred Thursday, August 28, 2014, six miles east of Oregon, Mo., on U.S. Hwy. 59 when the driver of a 2002 Jeep Grand Cherokee crossed the center of the roadway and struck an oncoming Dodge Caravan.

The driver of the Grand Cherokee, Jana B. Parsons, 48, of Forest City, Mo., was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by Holt County Coroner Susan Lentz. The driver of the Dodge Caravan, Michael Ginn, 61, of Independence, Mo., was transported via air evacuation to Heartland Hospital in St. Joseph, Mo., where he was pronounced dead by Dr.

J. Simpson. Ginn's passenger, Joseph W. Derr, age 67, also of Independence, was seriously injured and transported to Heartland Hospital by the Andrew County Emergency Medical Service (EMS).

Parsons was westbound while Ginn was eastbound on U.S. 59 at approximately 2:59 p.m. when the head-on collision occurred. The Parsons vehicle came to rest in the roadway facing southwest with the Ginn vehicle traveling off the south side of the roadway, coming to rest in the ditch facing northeast.

All victims were wearing seat belts. The vehicles were totaled and towed from the scene by Double D Towing of Mound City.

Missouri State Highway Patrol Trooper C.J. Sullivan and Major Crash Investigation Unit Sgt. H.A. Sears investigated the accident. They were assisted by Sgt. M.P. Quilty, Cpl. R.J. Helfers, Cpl. S.E. Pritzel, Cpl. T.L. Williams, the Holt County Sheriff's Department, the Andrew County EMS, the Atchison-Holt Ambulance Service, the Holt County Coroner, the Mound City Rural Fire Department and the South Holt Rural Fire Department as well as the air evacuation service.

OBITUARIES

Jana B. (Cromer) Parsons

Jana B. (Cromer) Parsons of Forest City, Mo., was born on July 24, 1966, in Martinsville, Ind. She was the daughter of Earl and Janet Cromer. In 1988, Jana married Scott Parsons, and they became parents of one daughter. Jana worked as an office manager in Wisconsin before moving to Missouri in 2010.

Jana passed away on Thursday, August 28, 2014, in a motor vehicle accident.

There were many things that were very important to Jana Beth Parsons, but most of all were her family members. She loved to plant and grow flowers, and between her family, her pets, and her plants she was always doing something.

In Jana's spare time, she would often visit her parents, attending the Homemakers Club of Oregon, Mo., with her mother, Janet. Other times when she had that rare moment of free time she loved to read books and watch TV shows and movies.

For as long as her family can remember Jana always loved watching and feeding the birds. She always loved her pets, especially her cat Koko. She even enjoyed her many chickens (which, according to a reliable source, she always swore she never wanted!) and taking care of them.

People could certainly always find Jana in a crowd by her distinctive laugh! She was a very beautiful person inside and out. Wherever she went she brought light and kindness to any soul she met. One of her many goals in life was to make sure she could always take care of her family, and she never failed to do that.

Survivors include her husband Scott, of their Forest City home; their daughter, Amanda Kay Parsons of Oregon; her parents, Earl and Janet Cromer of Oregon; brother, Fred Cromer of Oregon; and brother and sister-in-law, Troy and Starr Cromer of Greensboro, North Carolina.

Family visitation was held on Wednesday, September 3, from 6-8 p.m. at the Chamberlain Funeral Home in Oregon. Services will be held Thursday, September 4, at 10:30 a.m. at Chamberlain Funeral Home in Oregon. Online condolences may be left at www.chamberlainfuneral.com.

Veterans' Home Assistance League to host annual fundraiser

The Cameron, Mo., Veterans' Home Assistance League will hold the inaugural "Golfing for Heros" golf tournament at Mozingo Lake Golf Course near Maryville, Mo., on Friday, September 12.

The Assistance League has sponsored a veterans' home golf tournament in Cameron for the past 15 years and decided to host a tournament near Maryville because the home has served and currently serves veterans from the Maryville and northwest Missouri area.

Brad Haggard, the Cameron Veterans' Home administrator, invites anyone who enjoys golfing to come out and have a great time at Mozingo while supporting men and women who have served this country.

"The funds that are raised during our golf tournaments are used to enhance the quality of life for the veterans we serve," Haggard said. "We are currently raising funds for a new bus, which will cost approximately $120,000, that will be used to transport veterans on recreational outings (such as Royals games), to restaurants in town and in the city, to Walmart, to the movie theaters and to the casinos. We have a wide range of trips and outings we go on which are based on the veterans' wishes that could not be made without safe transportation."

For additional information or if interested in registering for the golf tournament or making a donation, contact Barbara Caldwell at 816-649-1622 or Doug Kline, golf chairman, at 660-254-6243.

News at Tiffany Heights

Residents enjoyed a cooking group on Monday afternoon, August 25, at Tiffany Heights in Mound City. Although the first of the month was National Zucchini Day, residents enjoyed cooking with this garden delight. They made zucchini fritters. The fritters were an easy fix and residents also used powdered ranch dressing mix for flavoring. They were tasty and residents said they would make them again.

Dennis Jones, Kendallwood Hospice Chaplain, provided Bible study on Tuesday morning. Barbara Hanlon assisted and Tami Paulson-Davis provided piano music. During the afternoon, residents had a celebration of "cheese". They found that archaeologists have discovered that as far back as 6000 B.C., cheese had been made from cow and goat milk and stored in tall jars. Residents also discussed types and categories of cheese. The best part was a taste test of some different types and flavors of cheese. Residents tasted blueberry in white cheese; cranberries in white cheese; garlic, herb, chicken soup flavored; and salami flavored. Everyone had a different favorite with suggestions on how to serve it. The best suggestion was for the salami on crackers.

On Wednesday morning, Twyla Haer completed an eight mile trek and Dorothy Sommer conquered four miles. The afternoon was spent preparing for a new month and playing pitch.

Dee Ann Heck provided piano music on Thursday morning. Bingo volunteers were Shirley Jackson, Denise Acklin, Joanne Loucks, Phyllis Heck, Jean McCall, Gordon Robbins, Lucille Stull and Mary Lee Privett. The winners this week were Judy Carney and Audrey Heck. Becky Poe lead the News and Views also during the afternoon.

Betty Kilim and Barbara Hanlon provided glamour nails on Friday morning. Everyone enjoyed having ice cream sundaes during the afternoon. Games of choice were encouraged on Saturday afternoon.

Larry Brickey and the Mound City Baptist Church family provided Sunday morning services. The afternoon worship services were conducted by River of Hope Fellowship Church.

Citizens Bank & Trust welcomes Jim Jacoby

The Citizens Bank & Trust in Mound City - Welcomed new vice president, James Jacoby, with an open house and reception on Friday, August 29. Jacoby is shown, at left, as he visits with one of the many customers who dropped by the event at 904 State Street. The bank also has locations in Rock Port, Mo., and Craig, Mo.

March of Dimes recognizes CH-F for its work to give more babies a healthy start in life

Community Hospital-Fairfax, MO (CH-F), has been recognized for reducing the number of elective inductions and cesarean deliveries performed before 39 completed weeks of pregnancy. The March of Dimes says this will give more babies a healthy start in life. Babies delivered before full term are at increased risk of serious health problems and death in their first year of life.

"We're proud of our expert team of physicians and nurses who saw this opportunity to improve care in our community and put in place policies to avoid scheduling elective inductions or cesarean deliveries before 39 weeks of pregnancy, except when medically necessary" said Roger Steinkruger, CEO of CH-F. This achievement is recognized through a banner from the March of Dimes and Missouri Hospital Association (MHA).

Babies born just a few weeks early have higher rates of hospitalization and illness than full-term infants. Recent research by the March of Dimes, the National Institutes of Health and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration found that although the overall threat is small, the risk of death more than doubled for infants born at 37 weeks of pregnancy when compared to babies born at 40 weeks, for all races and ethnicities.

According to Trina Ragain, State Director of Program Services, Advocacy and Government Affairs, March of Dimes Missouri Chapter, "The last weeks of pregnancy are extremely important. Babies aren't just putting on weight; they are undergoing important development of the brain, lungs and other vital organs. The March of Dimes commends Community Hospital-Fairfax for being a champion for babies with their quality improvement effort."

A two-year partnership between the March of Dimes Missouri Chapter and the MHA is achieving its goal of significantly reducing early elective deliveries (EEDs) by the end of 2014. Of the 46 participating birthing hospitals in Missouri, 78 percent report a rate of five percent or less and 61 percent have had no EEDs in the last six months of reported data.

Additionally, of the 46 hospitals, 87 percent now have a "hard stop" policy in place which establishes strict medical guidelines for when a physician may schedule a delivery. Only 35 percent had a hard stop policy in place before the MHA/March of Dimes collaboration began. The policy prohibits doctors from scheduling a delivery - either by induction or cesarean section - before the baby is at a confirmed 39 weeks gestation. The policy applies to non-medically indicated (elective) deliveries only.

According to Herb Kuhn, president and CEO of the MHA, "In the best interests of the health of mothers and infants, Missouri's hospitals have been working to reduce early elective deliveries. This is one of many quality improvements they are aggressively pursuing to achieve the Triple Aim of better care, better health and lower costs."

The March of Dimes has been providing support to MHA hospitals in the form of its Healthy Babies are Worth the Wait program which includes educational materials and other resources. Susan Bushnell, State Director of the March of Dimes, Missouri Chapter, said, "This data provides hard evidence that more Missouri babies are being born full term, giving them the healthiest possible start to life. We hope that all of Missouri's birthing hospitals will embrace this initiative and eliminate early elective deliveries."

Craig R-3 increases enrollment for 2014-15 school year

The Craig R-3 Board of Education held its monthly meeting Monday, Aug. 18, at the school in Craig, Mo., with board members Mark Faller, Ronnie Haer, Nicole Hinrichs, Rob Liles, Rebecca Monroe and Mike Wright present as well as Superintendent Mike Leach, Principal Ken Grove and Secretary Regina Gillenwater. Board member Molly Hufford was not present.

The meeting covered routine business as well as beginning of the school year reports.

Superintendent Mike Leach presented the August bills for approval along with the July, 2014, financial report. He also said that the first day of school went smoothly noting that there are 37 students enrolled in kindergarten through the sixth grade, and 34 students enrolled in seventh through twelfth grades resulting in a K-12 enrollment of 71. Overall this an increase of four students over last year's beginning of the year enrollment which was 67. The enrollment of 71 is an increase of 14 from May, 2014, as the enrollment saw a decrease of 10 during the 2013-14 school year.

The board approved several measures, including a 2014-15 tax rate which was set at $4.73; bus routes and vocational routes; and a conflict of interest statement. All passed unanimously.

Principal Grove said that he was excited about the new staff members this year and what they are bringing to the school district. The elementary students are enjoying the new playground equipment. The Open House/Back to School Night had a good turnout. There are two students out for high school volleyball, five out for high school football, five out for junior high volleyball, four out for junior high football, two out for cross country and one high school cheerleader. The elementary student council is having a garage sale on Saturday, September 6; and Homecoming is the week of September 8.

Superintendent Leach also reported that the annual school audit was conducted on Monday and Tuesday, August 11 and 12. New furnaces have been installed. Mark Faller was presented with his board member training certificate.

September's board meeting has been moved to Tuesday, September 16, at 7:00 p.m. in the office of the Secretary of the Superintendent. Board meetings are usually the second Monday of each month.

Liles Enterprises, LLC - Celebrated a grand opening on Tuesday, August 26, at 31792 State Highway W near Fairfax, Mo. Robert and Susan Liles, owners of Liles Construction, LLC, opened their new business to specialize in supplying farmers and contractors drainage pipes.

Liles Enterprises holds grand opening

Robert and Susan Liles, owners of Liles Construction, LLC, held a grand opening for their new company, Liles Enterprises, LLC, on Tuesday, Aug. 26, at 31792 State Highway W near Fairfax, Mo.

The Liles' have been life-long members of the Fairfax area and are dedicated to the agriculture industry. After obtaining his degree in Business Management from Northwest Missouri State University in 1994, Robert Liles assumed a full-time position in his family's land improvement, terrace and drainage business. Eventually Robert took over the business, Liles Construction, LLC, in 2009.

Together, Liles and his wife, Susan, have established Liles Enterprises, LLC, to provide quality drainage pipe to local farmers and contractors. Susan brings her 15 years of banking experience to the new enterprise and will be assisting in the management of the business, while Robert will focus on utilizing his 20 years of experience in the industry to benefit local farmers and contractors.

The Liles' dedication to the industry and their commitment to quality is reflected in this new business venture as they have worked closely with Springfield Plastics, Inc., based in Auburn, Ill., to become a proud local supplier of their drainage pipes.

Springfield Plastics, Inc., is the only U.S. company to receive certification for using 100 percent virgin resin in drainage pipes, offering peace of mind through the highest quality and consistency available in today's drainage market.

Standard setting organizations have required the use of virgin materials for many years, however, many drainage pipe companies continue to use recycled materials in their products to reduce their costs. Regulators have always been concerned with the wide variability of the physical properties in recycled materials that could lead to stress cracking, poor deflection and impact strengths and uneven wall distributions.

Liles Enterprises, LLC, is committed to providing quality drainage pipes their customers can rely on. By providing Springfield Plastics' 100 percent virgin resin drainage pipes, the company offers a consistent material with high flexibility and no blowouts of soft spots to local farmers and contractors.

What do you remember?

The Holt County Historical Society is looking for answers to these questions that have been submitted by researchers.

ANYONE REMEMBER THESE LONG AGO FACES?

These young people were apparently an orchestra and by looking at the surroundings the picture was taken in a home.

It is believed it is a school group. This was in a large box labeled "Swope Pictures" that was given to the society by the late Eileen Derr. Included are buildings, homes, and people that are believed to be from the Baldwin, Swope, and Munkres families. A perfect photo of the late Henry Munkres home that is now on the Squaw Creek Refuge was included in the mix. A copy was shared with the refuge. There is a display of unknown school photos at the Genealogy/Research Center in Mound City.

Stop in some Wednesday and see if you recognize anyone!

If anyone has any information about any of these items, please call 660-442-5949.

This Week's History

From the Mound City News archives

50 Years Ago - 1964

• Mound City's schools opened with the largest number ever recorded enrolled in the twelve classes for the term. The total in all grades was 478. This was 47 more pupils than was the case the prior year, and the additional number was primarily due to the annexation of the Bellevue District. Of the 478 current students, records showed that 420 were eating at the lunch room, which certainly necessitated a mammoth operation in that department.

• The protection of the giant Canada Goose, thought extinct, was the reason for the hunting days' reduction in the Squaw Creek area.

• Don Beesley and the Country Gentlemen walked away with first place honors at the National Old Time Fiddlers and Country Music Contest held in Brownville, Nebraska. It was the fourth time this musical organization had won top honors there. The musical group was composed of: Don Beesley, Fortescue, guitar and vocalist; Paul Rhoades, Craig, rhythm guitar; Charles Litherbury, Fairfax, electric bass; Ronnie Burson, Quitman, drums; and Dean Thompson, Sioux City, Iowa, steel guitar.

25 Years Ago - 1989

• Opening day enrollment at Holt County R-II took a drop after three years of little fluctuation. Total enrollment for K-12 was 342, which was down 11 from opening figures in 1988.

• The State Theater Arts Council planned to give tours on Market Square Day to show the public the progress that had been made in the restoration project.

• South Holt was going to try for a repeat of the state 8-man football title. The team would return 32 with the following 10 seniors: Randy Dozier, Jason Fansher, Dennis Guyer, Jim Hurst, Chris Jones, Mike Messick, Ray Ottman, Jarod Scroggins, Zach Thompson, and Brian Williams. The Craig Hornets would be returning to competition after sitting out a year due to low numbers. They would play mostly a junior varsity schedule. Craig seniors playing were Jon Russell, Casey Radley, and Chris Holt.

• Enrollment numbers at Craig R-III broke a three-year downward spiral by showing a slight increase. The K-12 enrollment was 166 for the 1989-90 opening day.

10 Years Ago - 2004

• New staff members at Nodaway-Holt were Dan Sinkhorn, Kodi Keiffer and Kathy DeVault.

• Mike Leach was the new principal at South Holt High School. Other staff members new to South Holt included Lindy Holt, Jackie Scott, Melody Alford, Kim Johnson, and Brent Snyder.

• A summer Youth Rodeo Series at the Fogg arena northeast of Mound City drew contestants "from all over," said Shirley Fogg. A total of 96 contestants participated in the seven rodeos.

• Enrollment at the four Holt County school districts was close to last year's, with the exception of South Holt Elementary, which was down 19 students to 136. South Holt's K-12 enrollment was 328, Craig R-III was 122, Mound City was 284, and Nodaway-Holt was 261.

• The Rev. Karl Forehand was to start as pastor at Big Lake Baptist Church. He had been the supply pastor since June, when Pastor David Johnson left.

Regional Council to host business resiliency workshop series

The Northwest Missouri Regional Council of Governments invites small business owners in Holt and Atchison counties to attend a series of Business Resiliency Workshops. In the wake of the 2011 flooding, levees breached along the Missouri River wreaked havoc on the surrounding floodplain communities. In 2014, recovery is still taking place in communities within these two counties. The Regional Council is currently working on a Disaster and Economic Recovery and Resiliency Strategy to prevent future damage and job loss. Flood impacts have included businesses, residences, and infrastructure. The workshops will be held to help improve the economic resiliency of the two counties. Lunch will be provided, but space is limited. Business owners interested in attending should RSVP to the Regional Council at least one week before each scheduled workshop. Contact Chance Long, Disaster Recovery Coordinator, at 660-582-5121 or email jchance@nwmorcog.org. The schedule of workshops include:

Soybean fields across the state falling victim to sudden death syndrome

Sudden death syndrome (SDS) is showing up in soybean fields across the state. Farmers should scout fields thoroughly for symptoms of SDS.

Regional Agronomist Wayne Flanary states that in scouting area crop fields, SDS is the worst that state agronomists have seen. The severity of damage and soybean yield reduction is impacted when soybeans are in grain fill stage including pod set and pod fill.

Currently, some areas of fields are lacking leaves to fill grain. The disease has reduced the leaf area of plants to very little. These areas will be severely impacted by this disease.

SDS, caused by the soil fungus Fusarium virguliforme, produces striking foliage symptoms, which first appear on upper leaves as scattered yellow blotches that increase in size, says University of Missouri (MU) Extension plant pathologist Laura Sweets. Yellow areas may turn brown, but veins remain green. As the disease advances, leaves turn brown and may curl up or fall off the plant.

Root systems deteriorate and lateral roots and taproots may be discolored. When split open, internal tissues of the taproot and lower stem may be light gray to light brown. Infected plants may have smaller root systems and clumps of dusty blue mold growth may be visible on the taproot.

Several diseases may look alike, so growers have to get into the field, Sweets says.

SDS appears in fields with high soil moisture. This year, a wet, cool spring followed by the second-coolest July on record created conditions favorable for SDS in much of Missouri.

High numbers of early season soybean root rot due to weather conditions may have been a precursor to SDS, said MU Plant Diagnostic Clinic Director Patricia Wallace. "SDS is a big problem this year," she said.

The disease sometimes appears as a circular or oval area of yellow or dying plants in fields. It may appear in irregular or wavy streaks that follow drainage patterns in the field.

Little can be done once plants are infected. Weather over the rest of this growing season influences the severity of loss.

Sweets encourages producers to note where SDS was found this year. Preventative management, including selecting resistant varieties, staggering planting dates, rotating crops and minimizing soil compaction, may help prevent the disease next growing season.

For more information, contact Wayne Flanary at 660-446-3724, Heather Benedict at 660-425-6434 or Wyatt Miller at 816-776-6961, Regional Agronomists, University of Missouri Extension.

Vicente Soto studies chemistry homework - Soto is a senior foreign exchange student at Mound City High School this year from Santiago, Chile. Soto plays for the football team and is an honorary Homecoming candidate. He is being hosted by the Kim and Donnie Ireland family of Mound City.

Exchange student enjoys friendly atmosphere

Being the new kid in school can be difficult - and even more so when your classmates don't speak your native language. For Vicente Soto that doesn't seem to be the case.

Soto, a Chilean foreign exchange student, has only been in Mound City for about a month, but he's already a member of the football team, an honorary Homecoming candidate and has made friends. Soto is being hosted through the Kim and Donnie Ireland family in Mound City. Kim says she enjoys watching the foreign exchange students that they host make new friends.

"Vicente's made some good friends," Kim said. "He's playing football and the boys that are playing with him have been really awesome. Ben and Blake Shifflett have been great to help him feel included in what the kids do."

Although Soto does speak English, Kim said sometimes there is still a language barrier between him and his classmates, but they have quickly overcome it.

"To watch him gain friendships, even though there has been a language barrier at times because of his English, the kids still find ways to communicate with each other," Kim said.

Soto is from the capital city of Santiago, which is also home to 6.3 million people. Although Mound City is much smaller, Soto said he likes how friendly everyone is here.

"The people are very happy here," he said. Soto also said that his favorite subject in school is math and in his spare time he likes to play tennis. Although there are some similarities between his school in Chile and here, he noted the biggest difference. "It's very different, he said. "First you can go outside the school for lunch."

Soto said that when he began school in Mound City, it would have been easier to communicate with classmates if they spoke Spanish, but it's getting easier to talk to his classmates and friends here.

Soto is the first student that the Irelands have hosted from South America. Previously, they have hosted two students from Europe, but this year the family decided to make a change.

"As a family, it's a really awesome experience to meet these kids and watch them grow into the culture," Kim said. She added that things Americans take for granted are new to visiting students.

"It's just fun to watch these things we take for granted that are brand new experiences for them," Kim said. "Whether it's (for our European students their first tacos) or their first American cheeseburger..."

While there are some differences in cultures, Ireland also pointed out that teenagers seem to bond over shared interests regardless of their home country.

"I think they (foreign exchange students) bring an opportunity for our kids to get to know someone from a different culture and realize they're not really different - teenagers enjoy the same things no matter what."

Nodaway-Holt R-7 School District celebrating 50 years of education

A lot has changed in the past 50 years - especially in the classrooms of the northwest Missouri towns of Graham, Maitland and Skidmore. The Nodaway-Holt R-7 School District is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. The theme, "From Chalkboard to iPads" recognizes how the classrooms have changed since the district first combined in 1964.

Karma Coleman, current Nodaway-Holt superintendent, said that now some students wouldn't recognize some of the classroom equipment from when the district first began.

"Well, we were just in the office one day talking about how it was going to be the 50th anniversary for the joint district this year," Coleman said. "The schools consolidated in 1964 and we were just sort of talking about how our kids wouldn't understand half of the things that were done 50 years ago. Our kids really don't even see chalkboards anymore."

Coleman emphasized the importance of celebrating the anniversary. "I think the 50th celebration is important to recognize because that's an accomplishment of three communities that have been one for 50 years. These three communities united in order to work toward bettering education for the students in the district."

Prior to Nodaway-Holt R-7, Graham, Maitland and Skidmore all had their own schools, however, they decided to consolidate the schools and form a new school district with the elementary school being located in Maitland and the high school being located in Graham.

The celebration for the golden anniversary began with this year's Graham Street Fair in August. The school district hosted an alumni tent that allowed former students to reconnect and also recognize when they graduated by signing a banner with their graduation year. The school also had a float in the parade that recognized the first graduating class of Nodaway-Holt R-7, the class of 1965.

"On our float we recognized the first graduating class so some of the members of the class of '65 rode the float," Coleman said.

Although the Graham Street Fair has already passed, Coleman said that it's not the only celebration the district has planned for this school year. The next 50th anniversary celebration will be centered around Homecoming which is Friday, Sept. 12. The theme and activities are still to be decided, but Coleman said that there will be "extras" including a quilt that will be auctioned off. Sue Stiens made the quilt and donated it to the school as a part of the 50th anniversary. The school will also be selling T-shirts for $12 and they are available in red, black or white.

"It's good for the communities to have something to hang their hats on and maybe the 50th celebration will bring people out and together in honor of the school," remarked Coleman.

Join the Arbor Day Foundation in September and receive 10 free trees for planting in Missouri

Everyone from Missouri who joins the Arbor Day Foundation in September will receive 10 free trees as part of the foundation's Trees for America program.

Through Trees for America, everyone is encouraged to plant trees that will benefit the environment and improve the quality of life. With one million members, the Arbor Day Foundation is the nation's largest non-profit organization dedicated to planting trees.

Everyone joining this month will receive an eastern redbud, white pine, sugar maple, white flowering dogwood, pin oak, red maple, river birch, silver maple, northern red oak and Colorado blue spruce.

"This group of trees was carefully selected to yield year-round benefits in Missouri, including beautiful spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation.

"These trees will also add to the proud heritage of Missouri's 83 Tree City USA communities," Harris continued. "For the last 38 years, Tree City USA has supported effective urban forest management across Missouri, and planting these trees will enhance the state's tree-planting tradition."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10. The 6- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge. Easy-to-follow planting instructions are enclosed with each shipment of trees.

New members of the Arbor Day Foundation will also receive The Tree Book, which includes information about tree planting and care.

To receive the 10 free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Ten Trees, Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Tuesday, September 30, 2014, or join online at arborday.org/september.

Trojans suffer loss to tough Stanberry team

The Nodaway-Holt Trojans fell 66-14 on Friday, August 29, to a tough Stanberry football team. The game in Graham, Mo., was called at halftime due to the 45-point rule.

"We need to get a lot better or it's going to be a long season. We did have two kickoff returns for touchdowns that give us something to build on for next week," said Nodaway-Holt Coach Josh Petersen.

Nodaway-Holt is off on Friday, September 5, then hosts the East Atchison Wolves for homecoming on Friday, September 12.

Craig and Mound City settle into co-op agreement

After announcing an agreement to cooperate (co-op) for all sports last November, 2013, Craig and Mound City schools have begun their joint venture. Fall sports are underway and all seems to be going well.

Korey Miles, the principal and athletic director for Mound City, said that co-oping has been beneficial to student athletes who might not be able to play some sports if student numbers are too low to offer those sports. Co-oping has become popular at many rural schools.

"It's becoming more common in the smaller schools. There's actually three co-ops, I believe, within our conference for football," Miles said.

"It's been a great cooperative together for Mound City and Craig so far. The kids get along great and the parents have been very supportive of the kids and the teams," Miles said. "It's been a great experience. The kids really enjoy it and I think it's been a great time for both schools to get together and work towards having a good program."

Craig and Mound City entered a co-op agreement after Fairfax, which formerly co-oped with Craig, decided to co-op with Tarkio.

"Craig had come to us with an interest," Miles said. "Craig's numbers are low and school officials were wanting to find a team that would be willing to co-op with them. We were willing to bring them in and help them out."

Mound City and Craig then decided to co-op for all high school and junior high sports. Mound City is also co-oping its junior high football with Nodaway-Holt.

The Mound City and Craig co-op isn't the only new sports agreement this year. As stated previously, Tarkio and Fairfax are co-oping for football and North Nodaway and West Nodaway have co-oped for all sports. Additionally, South Holt and Tarkio have co-oped for wrestling.

Mound City and Craig students will be able to participate in cross country, football and volleyball in the fall; basketball in the winter; and track and golf in the spring; as well as cheerleading.

Ken Eaton, the superintendent and president of the Missouri State High School Activities Association (MSH-SAA) agreed with Miles that co-oping is a positive agreement that benefits students. Eaton estimated that in Missouri, there are approximately 50 co-ops for football alone.

"It's been good to give kids the opportunity to participate," Eaton said. Miles added that, ultimately, co-oping is in the best interest of students.

"We are always trying to make decisions that are best for the kids," Miles said. "It's an agreement that allows kids to have opportunities that they wouldn't have if they didn't co-op."

Junior high co-op agreements are one year agreements, while high school co-ops last for two years.

Panthers move to 2-0 with shutout of Knights

The Mound City Panthers, who are cooperating (co-oping) with Craig, Mo., R-3 in all sports, moved to 2-0 on the season with a 46-0 victory over the South Holt Knights on Friday, August 29, at Ceglenski Field in Mound City.

The Panthers started the game with a 33-point first quarter then struggled on the offensive side of the ball, only putting up 7 points in the second quarter to go into halftime leading 40-0. With the weather deteriorating after halftime, Mound City scored quickly to go ahead 46-0, which ended the game with the 45-point rule.

The Panthers will travel to Grant City, Mo., to take on the Worth County Tigers on Friday, September 5, at 7 p.m.

The South Holt Knights move to 0-2 on the season and host the Stanberry Bulldogs on Friday, September 5, at 7 p.m. in Oregon, Mo.

Mound City Panther Blake Shifflett, #9 at right - Makes a nice tackle, flipping the South Holt ball carrier #19 Wyatt Jackson over his head. Shifflett had 3 tackles on the night Friday, August 29, in Mound City.

#23 Kyler Miles of Mound City (right) - Flips the South Holt ball carrier #19 Wyatt Jackson (upside down). Miles had eight tackles on the night as Mound City shut out South Holt in varsity football action on Friday, August 29.

Mound City kicker Vicente Soto, #44 - Kicks an extra point with Jaden Gillenwater, #24, holding. Soto went four of six kicking extra points during the 275 Conference win over the South Holt Knights on Friday, August 29.

Recount on right-to-farm vote has started

Missouri's secretary of state has ordered a recount of the Aug. 5 vote on Constitutional Amendment 1.

The measure was approved by a margin of 2,490 votes out of nearly 1,000,000 votes cast -- a difference of slightly more than two-tenths of a percentage point (50.12 percent in support to 49.87 percent opposed).

Missouri law provides a recount can be demanded if the difference is one-half of a percentage point.

Counties have until Sept. 11 to report the recount results. The secretary of state's deadline for certifying the recount is Sept. 15.

The measure would establish "the right of farmers and ranchers to engage in farming and ranching practices."

Although promoted by the agriculture industry, the proposal had been opposed by advocates for environmental protection and humane treatment of animals.

Early homecomings set for next week

Early homecomings for three Holt County schools have last minute plans for activities still underway. Mound City, Craig and Nodaway-Holt are all celebrating Homecoming Week from Monday, September 8, through Friday, September 12.

Mound City and Craig are joining in their celebrations by sharing the theme of "Rock 'N' Roll Fantasy: to include Dress-Up Days as follows: Monday - PJ Day; Tuesday - Celebrity Day; Wednesday - Purple & Gold Day; Thursday - America Day; and Friday - Rock Star Day. The festivities will be highlighted on Friday, September 12, with a parade down State Street in Mound City at 2 p.m. with both schools participating. A pep assembly will be held in the high school gym in Mound City following the parade with the community welcome to attend.

COMMUNITY BONFIRE

On Wednesday, September 10, the Mound City Community Booster Club is hosting a Bonfire at Griffith Park in Mound City at 7:30 p.m. in conjunction with Homecoming Week. Hot dogs and chips will be served and members of both the Mound City and Craig communities are invited.

To culminate Homecoming Week for Mound City and Craig, coronations of royalty for both schools will take place at Ceglenski Field in Mound City at 6:15 p.m. on Friday, September 12, before the Panthers take on the West Nodaway Rockets in varsity football action at 7 p.m.

Homecoming candidates at Mound City are: seniors Lily Forehand, Grace Newcomb, Lena Ashford, Hayden Marrs, Timothy Runnels, Colton Smith and Vicente Soto (Honorary). Candidates for Craig were selected after this week's Mound City News deadline, therefore will appear in next week's edition.

Nodaway-Holt is also celebrating Homecoming Week next week with activities and candidates being confirmed after this week's Mound City News deadline. They will be featured in next week's edition.

Nodaway-Holt's Homecoming Week will also include activities to honor the school's 50th anniversary of consolidation. To wrap up festivities, the Nodaway-Holt Trojans will host the East Atchison Wolves in varsity football action in Graham, MO, at 7 p.m. on Friday, September 12.
